

Migration Health and Travel Medicine

- Travel and tourism related environmental factors
- Current migration trends and their public health impact in Europe
- Health hazards related with travel and tourism. Special health insurance conditions
- Special health conditions and their excess health hazards during travels
- Special health hazards of different geographic regions
- Preparations for travel related health hazards and possibilities in risk reduction
- Food and water born infections
- Vector born diseases
- Rare diseases travellers/ tourist may be infected with
- Alarming symptoms of rare diseases returnees may contact the health service
- Trends and composition of irregular migration directed towards the European Union
- Health and public health impact of irregular migration
- Migrant friendly health services; their aim and characteristics

